Resident Artist Coming Here for Second Semester

Emil Ganso, Famed Etcher, to Work, Advise Students Here

Some years ago the Carnegie corporation undertook to assist colleges in a program of Artist-in-Residence. In most instances the artist has been a muralist and has done murals in college buildings, giving students the opportunity to watch him in the work, consult with him, and in many instances, to participate in the project itself.

During the second semester, Lawrence college will have an Artist-in-Residence who will provide somewhat more extensive opportunities to its students. With the aid of a grant from the Carnegie corporation, the well known American etcher, Emil Ganso will be Artist-in-Residence. During his stay, he will teach no regular classes, but will have considerable contact with students. Among other activities he will make six or eight etchings of college buildings and scenes, to be used as illustrations in the college catalogue. Original etching prints will be taken from these prints and will be sold to students, alumni, and friends of the college at a very moderate price, giving them an opportunity to start or augment their collection of original, signed prints.

Recognized Artist

Mr. Ganso, who is recognized as one of the outstanding American artists and particularly competent in his techniques, will do his work in a special studio being arranged on the campus. Interested students will have the opportunity to discuss with him the views to be used and will watch him etch the plates and actually make the prints.

Mr. Ganso was born in Habensstadt, Germany, April 14, 1895, and his art career is studded with honors and exhibitions throughout this and other countries. In 1933 he was awarded the Guggenheim fellowship and spent the year abroad. He is a member of American Society of Painters, Sculptors, and Gravers; Salons of America, Society of American Etchers; and Woodstock association. Among art museums where he has been represented are, Metropolitan Museum of Art, Cleveland Museum of Art, New York Public Library, Whitney Museum of Fine Art, Portland Art association, Los Angeles Museum, Denver Art museum, Boston Museum of Fine Arts, Honolulu Academy of Arts, and Bibliotheque Nationale, Paris.

Reproductions of Mr. Ganso's works have appeared in the American Magazine of Art, Print Collectors Quarterly, Art Digest, International Studio.

Smith and Mockley are In Round Table Talks

Last Thursday, December 7, Margery Smith and Jane Mockley represented Lawrence college in three round table discussions at Rockford, Illinois. Wisconsin, Northwestern, and Rockford students also participated. Margery Smith spoke at the student convocation in the morning; Jane Mockley, at the Rotary club that noon; and Margery Smith spoke again during the half-hour radio broadcast at 3:30. The discussions were about America's position in neutrality. The embargo bill, the cash and carry system, and isolation were the main issues of the discussion.

Lawrentian Sponsored Exhibit Fails to Come

As we go to press, the Collegiate Press exhibit which we had announced for this week, has not arrived. Wires have been sent back and forth in vain attempts to locate the collection. The nearest we can find out is that the Michigan State university newspaper liked it TOO well and just forgot to send it on. It may arrive later this week for a day or two, otherwise we shall attempt to secure it definitely for a later date.

President Barrows Announces Fraternity Quadrangle Plans

New Project Is Step Number Two in Building Plan

SCHEDULE CHANGED

President Disclosed Series
Of Changes January
17, 1938

The official announcement this morning of the construction of the new fraternity quadrangle is the second step in a series of changes which President Barrows proposed in his Building plan in convocation January 17, 1938.

The first step was the construction of the six cement tennis courts which were ready for use last year, and the second was the girl's athletic field, which was begun last spring and which will be ready for use next fall. It is situated along the river in back of Science and Ormsby halls.

The proposed building changes announced by President Barrows, call for the construction of a new dormitory, the remodeling of the present ones, changing Main hall into an administration building, the enlargement of the library stacks, the construction of a new student union building, and a fine arts center.

Change Main Hall

Main hall, the oldest campus building and the meeting place for classes for nearly one hundred years, will be remodelled to house the administration offices and to center the museum collection.

The library will be enlarged by building additional stack space toward Lawe street, and the vacated administration offices will provide much-needed reading and conference rooms. Around the present library building a new building will be constructed and in this building classes will be held and professors will have their offices, an arrangement which will reduce the number of classrooms now required.

Present dormitory accommodations will be shifted, with men living at Sage to put them closer to the gym and all women residing at Brokaw, Ormsby, and a new dormitory on the west side of the campus. Some remodeling will be necessary to adapt them to the new situation.

Plans also call for a landscaped women's campus, separated from the town by a wall, which will close off the end of Lawrence street.

The old gymnasium and perhaps the observatory will be torn down to make room for a new student union building which tentative plans anticipate a women's gym

Set Deadline at One Week After Vacation On Contributor Work

The deadline for Contributor material has been set for one week after the end of Christmas vacation, announced Ed Bayley, Contributor editor. At that time all stories, essays, poems, and art work must be in the hands of the editorial staff for final judgment.

The scope of the publication has been widened to include critical work this year, a fact which evidently has not become widely known yet, for no material of this sort has been received. Any good paper on which the criticism has been originally thought out is very acceptable.

Written work may be turned in to Peg Banta or Ann Blaker at Sage, Bill Diver or Jim Orwig at Brokaw, or Ed Bayley, Dick Calkins, or John Prescott anywhere. Art work should be turned in to Jim Orwig, Art editor.

THOMAS N. BARROWS

President's Message

This week's Lawrentian carries the story and pictures of the new quadrangle, construction of which will begin early in the spring. For some time we have been planning and hoping for this project and its assurance and announcement comes as a Christmas present for all of us.

One thing should be apparent: the reality of this program bears testimony to the faith of the trustees, faculty, and students in the progress of the College and its future. To a remarkable degree the present high place which Lawrence occupies is the result of the understanding, cooperation, and efforts of the students to make this college outstanding.

On behalf of the Trustees and Faculty, I extend to all of you, best wishes for a happy holiday season.

Thomas N. Barrows

Collegiate Players Initiate 5 Members

National Collegiate Players wish to announce the initiation Tuesday evening of John Bodilly, Anne Blakeman, Carolyn Kemler, Monica Worsley and Selden Spencer. National Collegiate Players is a national dramatics fraternity. Its function is purely honorary, and election to the group is the result of exceptional interest and ability in dramatics. In the field of dramatics it holds the same position as does Phi Beta Kappa in the field of scholarship.

ENTERTAINS STAFFS

Miss Anna Tarr entertained members of the administration and library staffs at tea on Tuesday afternoon from four to five. Pine boughs and candles in clever holders made from apples decorated the Catalog room where the tea was held.

Begin Digging on New East House Basement

Work has begun on excavation for the new East house basement. The building is being moved to the corner of Meade and Alton to make space for the new quadrangle. This Paper chem dormitory was the former home of Beta Theta Pi and is as at present directly across the street from Sage hall. Work will be completed and the residents will be moved into their new location when the College reconvenes after the holidays.

CALL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

Art contributions to the Contributor are now being called for. Any original work on any subject in the mediums of pen-and-ink, woodcut, or etching are eligible. For additional information see Jim Orwig, art editor.

WILL HOUSE 22

Set Cost at Over Quarter of a Million Dollars

Official announcement was made this morning by President Barrows of the new fraternity quadrangle which will be situated in the block across the street from Sage hall. The project will cost over a quarter of a million dollars and will provide new houses for all fraternities on campus. Each unit will house 22 men and will be fire-proof. The architect will be Richard Philipp, of Milwaukee and his finished works will be in Georgian style constructed in Wisconsin stone such as that used in the new Alexander gymnasium and the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

The quadrangle will be "U" shaped and houses will face a center park which will be landscaped with bushes, walks, and a fountain in the center. A roadway will circle this court with entrances onto Alton and John streets. While the houses will be facing the park, the sides which face the streets will be extremely attractive and will have double entrances, giving the appearance of a regular front side.

First Floor Plans

The first floor of each unit will contain a large living room, a library alcove and a card room. Also, a music room, a large cloak room, a telephone booth, and single and two double bed-rooms and studies will be situated on this floor. One end of this floor will be occupied by a suite for a house mother and powder room for women visitors.

The basement of each house will feature a large dining room, game room and chapter room, all divided by folding doors which may be opened to form one large "L" shaped room suitable for formal dinners and dances. The dimensions of this enlarged room will be 53' by 31'. Kitchen facilities, cook's quarters, a trunk room, a wash room and pressing room will also be included in the basement facilities. This portion of the house, it was pointed out, cannot truly be classed as a basement since the floor will be only four feet below ground level.

Two large stairways will ascend to the second floor where eight double study and dressing rooms, each containing two closets, will be situated. One single bedroom and study will be included here. Sleeping porches will be built at each end of the house, affording three exposures, and each accommodating

New 'Cut' System Is Approved Here By Faculty Group

Ruling Passed Yesterday Afternoon Permits Limited Absences

A new cut system for Lawrence college was approved by the faculty at their meeting yesterday afternoon. The proposals of the faculty committee appointed to draw up this plan was accepted without changes.

The new system will take effect next semester and provides that in order to cover absences caused by minor ailments too slight to need medical care, or by reasons of a personal nature, every student is allowed, in each semester, as many unexcused absences as there are weekly meetings of that course. Other absences due to ill health may be excused upon the recommendation of the Infirmary. No unexcused absences are permitted from laboratory appointments or from previously announced quizzes.

A student exceeding the limit indicated above must satisfy the Dean of Students that he had adequate reason for absenting himself. Failure to do so is to be treated as a disciplinary matter.

This new system will apply at the beginning of next semester to all students who are not then deficient in grade points as a result of unexcused absences. Students who are thus deficient will be allowed no unexcused absences until they have repaired this deficiency.

eight men. A linen closet, a telephone niche and enlarged bathroom facilities will also be found here.

The total cost to men living in these new buildings, including room and board, fraternity activities, and social expenses such as exist in the present fraternity set-ups will amount approximately to $45 per month. Members not living in the houses will be charged $6.50 per month. These charges will also pay for regular maid service, and all light, heat and other miscellaneous charges which the college is to furnish in the future.

Financial arrangements for this project have been made possible through gifts from the trustees, the contribution of property and equities from the fraternities, and a loan for the balance. The fraternity contributions will be paid back in the form of scholarships to members.

Preliminary work is in progress at the present time and excavation will be started as soon as weather conditions make it possible in the spring. It is anticipated that fraternities will occupy these buildings by Christmas of next year.

Mrs. Fowler Speaks To Freshmen Women

Freshmen girls and transfers were impressed Thursday evening with the annual Mortar Board candlelight dinner held at Ormsby. Mary White acted as toastmistress presenting the present members of Mortar Board and giving the outstanding offices held by them on the campus. She then introduced Mrs. W. M. Fowler of Iowa City, Iowa, the national vice-president of Mortar Board. Mrs. Fowler gave a short explanation of the three ideals of Mortar Board: service, leadership, and scholarship.

Chorus Maintains Standards Of Schola Cantorum in 'Messiah'

By Saburo Watanabe

The annual presentation of Handel's Messiah by the Schola Cantorum of two hundred voices gains greater popular favor in this community each year, judging from the overflow audience which turned out last Sunday evening for this year's all-student performance of Handel's monumental work. The few students who did not attend this presentation should realize how unfortunate they were to miss this event which has become a cherished tradition on the Lawrence campus and in the community. To view the spectacle of this great chorus of two hundred voices in its simple setting on the stage is in itself an experience never to be forgotten.

Throughout the oratorio the chorus maintained the high, established standards of the Schola Cantorum; the few instances in which it fell somewhat short of the desired finish may be overlooked as probably being attributable to the fact that the members have this year been more actively engaged in other fields of musical endeavor to satisfy the college audience in its musical demands.

Student Soloists

This year's concert was unusual in the fact that this is the first year in the history of these presentations that all of the solo parts have been filled by students. The soloists were all very pleasing to the audience, and sang quite creditably in roles which are well known to be exacting on the performer. Likewise, the orchestra is to be commended for its admirable efforts in its part of the performance, and the accompanist should also be commended for his contribution. We would like to see the orchestra make its appearance more frequently thus enabling them to acquire a finer polish as the years go by.

Although we remember well the brilliant organ accompaniments of past years, we feel that in view of this year's presentation, and considering the valuable experience to be gained by participation in such a performance, it might be well to add to the tradition surrounding this annual event the idea of an all-student performance under faculty direction.

Dresser Addresses Youth Association At Christmas Party

The Lutheran Youth association's Christmas party was held on Sunday, December 10, from 4:00 to 6:30. Evelyn Kregel talked about "The History of Christmas". After the talk, Glen Lockery led the singing of Christmas carols.

Mr. Dresser, professor of practical theology at Northwestern Seminary in Minneapolis, was the guest speaker. He told of the Lutheran Youth association's activities at the University of Minnesota where there are 700 members.

Stan Lundahl and Bill Kuehnell were in charge of the dartball and shuffle-board games and several relay races. A very delightful lunch was served by several of the women of Trinity church. Warren Hovland will act as Professor Quiz at the next meeting on January 7, 1940.

floor to be used for dances and receptions, Pan-Hellenic suites, coffee shop, offices for student organizations and publications, lounges and conference rooms.

It is also proposed that a new fine arts building be constructed on the block just south of the library. This building would consist of three units, having the conservatory, the fine arts department, and the college theatre, which groups would have the use of an acoustically perfect auditorium with a seating capacity of 500 and the most modern equipment for play production and musical recitals.

The new class room building which will be built around the present library is to be a three story structure and the lowest floor, which will be about grade level, given over to class-rooms and faculty offices.

Philipp Makes Plans

The changes have been worked out by the well-known Wisconsin architect Richard Philipp of Milwaukee whose plans call for the use of Lanin stone such as was used in the construction of Alexander gymnasium and the Paper Institute buildings. The new buildings will be erected in a simple Georgian style.

The final result of the revamped campus will be one of unification. The college will be located on an unbroken piece of property between Durkee and Lawe streets, lying south of College avenue except for the Chapel. This will make possible the closing off of the streets which now run between the various buildings. By changing the men and women's dormitories the advantages will be gained of putting the men together on one end of the campus and the women at the other, each located nearer their distinctive activities.

Finish Plans for Christmas Dance Friday Evening

Bernie Young and His Colored Band Will Play

Plans are complete for the presentation of the annual Christmas dance at the new Alexander gymnasium tomorrow night. The featured orchestra will be that of Bernie Young, prominent mid-western colored maestro. This fourteen piece aggregation will feature Cora Ann Moore, girl song-stylist, who will be aided by such vocalists as Jimmy King, and Skeeter White.

This band is one of the most prominent of its kind in the country having played at such night spots as the Savoy ballroom in Chicago and the Cotton Club in New York within the past year. It is without a doubt one of the finest that has appeared here at Lawrence.

The campus heard them last spring when they played the Sigma Phi Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta formal. While they went over in a big way at that time, they are now a much improved band. It has been since last spring that they have had engagements in these larger establishments.

Doris Robbins and her committee also are set to go tomorrow night. They have promised an attractive set of decorations to make the evening even more enjoyable. The motif will be that of the season, featuring Christmas trees.

Follow Old Customs At Spanish Party

Pinata, an old Spanish custom, was the main feature of the Spanish club Christmas party last Thursday. A huge paper bag, filled with candy, nuts and trinkets, was placed high on a board and the club members each approached it with a stick trying to knock it down. Craig Hirst succeeded and scattered its contents all over the room. Penny Bennisson made the Pinata.

Bernell Johnson talked on Christmas customs in South America and in Spain. Gaynor Rupp read several poems in Spanish. Bernell Johnson also won the vocabulary game which was played. The party was finished by singing Christmas carols in Spanish. Mary Mueller, the president, was in charge of the program.

Schroeder and Edgewater Beach Hotels to be Hosts to Lawrentians

Plans are now complete for the presentation of the Christmas parties in Milwaukee and Chicago on December 20 and 27 respectively. The Wisconsin party will be held at the Schroeder hotel, while those students from Illinois will be awaited at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

The Milwaukee students will have a chance to take in two parties in one day since there will be an intercollegiate fashion show and luncheon dance in the early afternoon and the Lawrence get-together at the same hotel in the evening. The fashion show, which will begin at 12:30 p. m. in the Crystal ballroom, will cost 75 cents for lunch and in return, besides the glimpse at the clothes which typical college girls are wearing they will have famous personalities from various campuses introduced. Cecil Golly, a Texas orchestra, will play for dancing.

Those who were introduced at this party last year included Paddy Driscoll, who is expected back this year, Roy Bellin, Ward Cuff, Joe Maertzweiler, and Mike Galko. Harry Stuhldreher, Wisconsin football coach, is expected to attend this year.

A Dream That Came True

THIS morning we officially announced what has been a well founded rumor to the effect that we are to have a fraternity quadrangle at Lawrence. This is about as fine an improvement as could be made at the present time, and refutes once and for all the opinions of many who said at the time the President announced his building plan two years ago—"just another dream."

This "dream" come true will give to Lawrence one of the finest Greek settlements in the country to replace a set of houses which at best may be called mediocre. At the time of President Barrows' original announcement of these plans, he stated that the quadrangle would be the last project on the list. The decision to change those plans has been a wise one.

The one draw-back in our Greek system has always been the living conditions in the various houses. This new quadrangle will put an end to those difficulties. Study conditions will at last be excellent and no person will be able to say, "I flunked because I moved into the fraternity house." When these are completed, we will have reached a point where residence in them is a thing to be desired and fraternity houses a thing we point to with pride.

The Board Finally Takes Action

FEW persons on the campus ever heard that there was such a thing as the Lawrentian Board of Control until it was called together last week to settle another squabble for the publication. However, we feel that the student body should know that organization, should know what it does, and should take an interest in its actions. After all, it is merely the representative for the entire student body in controlling this sheet.

It is composed of the Editor-in-Chief, Managing editor, Desk editor, Business manager, Student Body president, Dean of Administration and College Business manager. Recently this group met to discuss issues arising out of the circulation of a handbill charging us with censorship of the news. The suppression of a Movie Review column was the matter in question.

That meeting resulted in several decisions which the students have every right to know of. Some persons have stated that these are a direct reversal over past Lawrentian policy. If that is so, and we are not so sure it is, the Board of Control can justly be proud of itself. The very things which we are supposed to have reversed ourselves on were matters of which the Board as a body knew nothing about. We refer to the remuneration of Lawrentian employees through theatre passes. While the present Business staff had nothing to do with it, its predecessors took it upon themselves to make arrangements with local theatres to pay for advertising through passes to the shows. They did this without the permission of the Board of Control which should handle such matters, and, in fact, never even bothered to notify it of their actions.

That meeting also put into black and white what should have been an unbroken precedent, but which unfortunately was not even a fact. We refer to the fact that Editorial policy was to some degree at least controlled by advertising policy. Again this was an inheritance on the part of the present Business manager, but it was one that was a sore blemish on the record of the student newspaper. Those days are gone we hope forever.

The resolutions passed by that body were as follows:

Voted: To be the consensus of opinion of the Lawrentian Board of Control that the editorial policy of the Lawrentian should be independent of the consideration of income from advertising.

It was further agreed that members of the staff either selected by the Board of Control or appointed by the Editor or Business Manager should receive only

So They Say

The Lawrentian invites students and faculty alike to use this column for an expression of their views on matters of common interest. Contributors are subject only to the restriction that there shall be no libel and that the length of articles be within reasonable bounds. Articles will be accepted up to 5 p. m. of the Sunday preceding the Thursday of publication. Contributions must be signed as an evidence of good faith, but the authorship will not be divulged unless so desired by the writer. The editors are not responsible for any expression of opinion though the 'So They Say' columns, and such opinion is in no way related to the editorial policy of the paper.

ADVICE FOR CHILLUN

Dear Editor-in-Chief:

For a long time I have been wondering if we couldn't hit on some kind of system which would keep the Lawrentian going without any extra push from the editor. At last I have an idea which might serve to keep at least three columns going strong. I have heard rumors that the most read columns are the Doghouse, the dirt column, and the So They Say.

If the "would-be" journalists who write the dirt column would keep on putting in Phi Delta news all wrong, and the Doghouse editor would keep on clearing up those mistakes, we would keep these two sections going. Then, if we would all read both of the above closely and write in to So They Say about them, we would keep it clean and interesting, providing, of course, that the wrong news and the corrections were clean and interesting.

This is all a bit mixed up you will agree, but at least it is an idea. What do you think? M. W.

APOLOGY

Dear "J.M.":

As you seem to think you have been dealt with unfairly, I hereby humbly and publicly apologize for those state-such compensation for their services as is formally established by the Board.

Voted: To be the consensus of opinion of the Board that passes to entertainments should be accepted for use only by the reviewers duly appointed by the Editor of the Lawrentian.

This settles the issue once and for all, and our only regret is that the Editor of two, three or four years ago was unable to write this editorial during his administration. It is NOT a situation that he could be proud of, for if these stories we are told concerning our "reversal of Lawrentian policy" are true, the person who was responsible for its beginning placed a yoke upon the Lawrentian's neck which destroyed much of its very purpose for being—a journal of campus opinion.

As I said once before, it was your letter, not you which I was criticizing. I beg your forgiveness if this criticism overreached itself and reflected upon you personally.

Hoping that this, my sincere apology, will help to assuage your feelings, I remain

Respectfully yours,
The author of that infamous epistle.

EDITOR'S NOTE

As far as we are concerned, this is now a closed issue. Everyone has had his say and when boiled down the whole thing is only silly and rather childish. Let's forget it and express no further opinions. We shall accept no further "So They Say" contributions on the subject.

In The DOGHOUSE

COMES Christmas, the time of good cheer and financial stringency. We have discovered by the last totalling of resources we have some small coins, four cigarette coupons, and two old belt buckles. We are limited to two choices. If we pay for our laundry, we'll have to walk home, possibly reaching the family fireside by December 29. If we leave our laundry in hock, it means two weeks in bed, until the fraternity brothers get back with the rest of our clothes. But gifts aren't out of the question. With a little luck we expect to get a Salvation Army charity basket. We can then send out canned goods as long as they last.

Russia's invasion of Finland has stirred up considerable student indignation. Most of the men are protesting by boycotting vodka. With a little persuasion, the International Relations Club expects to persuade Mr. Watts to cancel all orders for caviar to be served in Brokaw.

Dick Calkins made sure everything would be taken care of when he put his week-end guest on board the Racine train Sunday. After he had made her comfortable and said a thorough goodbye, he found the train was chuffing busily into the Neenah station.

We'll see you again on the New Year's special on your way back to school. That is, we hope we'll see only one of each of you.

Inquiring Reporter

To most people, when the word college is mentioned there flashes into their mind the idea of the attainment of a goal and a place in which to broaden one's intellectual powers and social graces. Of course in dealing with this subject we find a great variety of ideas, some for, some against and others on the fence.

From the upperclassmen, we learn that Bernell Johnson's reason for coming to school is "to get educated so I can get a job afterwards." June Selvy says "to get a Liberal Arts education because I'd like to go on in the art field specializing later." Sis Hansen's reason is "Lawrence certainly is not a snap; therefore, I'm getting what I came for, a good education which comes from hard work." Helen Ann Schram's idea is "to get my degree, if I ever do." The president of the student body, Ken Buesing, in his turn, says, "Sometimes I'd like to know. To get an education, to find a better position in life and to get to know people."

A. J. Austin remarked that "I came for a Liberal Arts education. I have no idea what I'm going to do except that I've decided to be an English teacher." Jack Bodilly, another one of our little smart boys, went below the surface and poured out his heart to me. This is his reason for coming to school: "I came to see if the theory is true that all women come to college to hook a man. It can't be true; they haven't hooked me." Jim Sattizahn admits, "My primary purpose is to get a better job although as yet I am not definite." Jan Blumer, our biology major, says, "I came to prolong my adolescence and for economic reasons so I can be a teacher." Bob Stocker says, "I haven't found out."

STAN SAMPSON confesses, "So that I wouldn't have to do something else." FRANKLYN KERSHAW says, "To get the highest grades with the least possible effort." It seems that the social aspect enters in very largely, and to bear out this statement MARGE BARBER says, "I came to have fun—oh, yes, and to study." BARBARA BOYCE and WINKS FOWLER, being roommates, have the same idea, "Our mothers and fathers met here so we have hopes." ARLENE KROGH says, "That's what I've been trying to figure out ever since I got here."

Ogden Pierce's reason is "To get away from home." John Disher says, "To increase my repertoire of jokes." Herbert Heiss says, "I'm here for the grades, and don't let anybody kid you that they're not important!" Peggy Geiger confesses, "I came to get a man." Katie Gilbert along the same line, says, "I came to college because I don't know how to cook yet." Clo Mary Bennison remarks, "I came to college to have my roommates bother me." George Truchan says, "I came for personal reasons." Bud Rubins reveals, "To attain a higher plane of living, knowledge, and perfection of my dancing." Connie Connors says, "I came to college because there's nothing better to do and won't be until I learn something." To top it all off, Norrine Beerman says, "You wouldn't want my answer."

Vikes Leave for 3-Game Trip to Iowa

Will Meet Cornell, Grinnell and Loras In Difficult Games

Denney Is Pleased With Squad After Knox Game

Lawrence college's inexperienced but aggressive basketball team will leave here Wednesday on a three game trip into Iowa which will pit them against two of the favored teams in the Midwest conference race and Loras of Dubuque in a non-league affair. The traveling squad of ten and Coach A. C. Denney will open at Cornell on Thursday night in a severe test with a team that lost only one man after finishing third last season. They have a tall well coached squad led by co-captains Lynch and Schneider who won all-conference honors in their junior year. Lawrence has won eight of the previous thirteen contests in the series marked by close games.

The following night the Vikings move over to Grinnell to open athletic relations with the Pioneers who became members of the Midwest circuit this season. Lawrence anticipates another tough hurdle in the scarlet and black inasmuch as they finished third in their last year in the tough Missouri Valley conference. They also are reported to have strengthened their squad with able replacements.

Meets Loras
Lawrence will engage Loras, formerly Columbia college, on Saturday night at Dubuque. In the only other basketball game between these colleges Lawrence won by a score of 28 to 15 in 1923.

Denney was pleased with the efforts of his charges in their game with Knox last Saturday in their first appearance of this year. Definitely concerned about the Vikes ability to score, the Lawrence followers were surprised to find their favorites carrying the game to the Siwash and forcing them to stall off the final minutes to win 46 to 42. The work of sophomores, especially Jarvis Lingle at guard, was encouraging. At one time during the game Denney had five sophomores on the floor. Expected to start are Cape and Frederickson, forwards; Schade, center; and Masterson and Lingle, the back line.

Lawrence Graduate Becomes Principal

Ray N. Ketcham, a graduate of Lawrence in the class of 1904, was recently named acting head of the Oak Park and River Forest, Illinois, High school. Mr. Ketcham has been dean of freshmen boys and succeeds Superintendent M. R. McDaniel, who recently passed away.

Since 1919 Mr. Ketcham has acted as principal of the summer school of the Oak Park-River Forest High school, employing teachers, planning the general schedule and managing finances. He was made dean in 1918.

LAWRENCE GIVES KNOX CAGERS A BATTLE

Lawrence college basketball team dropped a 46 to 42 decision to Knox here Saturday night but lost no prestige in doing so. The Vikings, playing their first game of the season, were a surprise and a pleasant one. In the above picture, Jarvis Lingle, sophomore guard, is blocking out Heerde, Knox guard, while Wallie Cape, Lawrence forward, drives around for a shot at the hoop. Cape was Lawrence's high scorer with 14 points on seven field goals. (Post-Crescent Photo.)

Vikes Show Well As Knox Cagers Take First Game

Cape and Fredrickson
Star Saturday as Den-ney men Lose, 46-42

The Lawrence college cage squad opened its 1939-40 basketball season with a very impressive showing, in spite of a defeat at the hands of Knox, 46-42. The Lawrence team took the floor without the services of its two veteran guards, Ken Buesing, and Bob Smith, who sprained his ankle on Friday night.

Welly Cape, senior forward, was the scorer for the Vikings with seven field goals—most of which were the "a la Cape" special hook shots. Don Fredrickson, sophomore, opened his varsity career with five buckets and one free throw. Efnor, forward of the Knox squad was the high scorer for the evening with seven baskets and five free throws for a total of nineteen points.

The Vikings got off to an early lead, sparked by Cape, and went into the lead, 13-5. However the Knox boys tied the score at 17 all, and as the bell sounded ending the half, Cape dropped a shot, making the score 19-17 in favor of the Vikes.

Early in the second half the boys from Knox took the lead and were never headed although Lawrence tied the score many times. During almost the entire second half the two teams matched basket for basket.

With Knox three points ahead due to Cape's personal on Hardes basket, the Knox team started to stall and did so successfully for four minutes, during which time they refused three free throws in order to take the ball out of bounds and keep control of it. The Lawrence squad looked good in spite of its defeat, and the surprise of the evening was the high scoring of the Vikes, although their reported strong defense looked rather weak at times.

The box score for the game:

SPORTLIGHT

THOSE of you people who are fortunate enough to read the enlightening column in the Appleton Post-Crescent entitled Chaf'n Chatter, by McIntyre, perhaps noticed the crack handed to the sports column of the Lawrentian, entitled Coach's Corner. The essence of Mr. McIntyre's comment on the Lawrentian sport feature is that a coach should not have to go on record as to what he expects his team will do in the coming game. The simile he uses is that an English prof will hesitate to say whether his class will be a success or a failure, or just average. Although there are two sides to the question, (only one of which Mac wishes—or is able—to see), this department wishes to give its side.

All of us who have had any connection with any athletic team realize that just so much of the material in any paper shows merely the passerby or some semi-interested spectators viewpoint of what or how he thinks the team will do. The sports department of the Lawrentian decided to give the coach a chance to tell the readers just what he saw in his team, and the possibilities he could foresee. Is that unreasonable? The Lawrentian sports department doesn't think so.

The Lawrence cage squad looked good last Saturday night in spite of their defeat. The apparent weakness in the Vike squad was to be scoring punch. Any team that can score 42 points does not lack scoring punch. However, the defense, which was supposed to be Lawrence's strong point, looked rather—for that fact—quite shabby. This may be partially explained by comparatively inexperienced men in the back line. On the whole, if the front line will continue its scoring and the backline brush up on the defense, Lawrence might go places!

The inter-fraternity swimming meet last Friday proved to be quite interesting—not only from the competitive angle—but also from the future swimming team outlook. Many of the frosh appeared especially good. This Turley kid from Green Bay just coasted away from all the competition. Patton, from Wauwatosa, also showed up well. Hay, from Shorewood was the best of the break strokers. Orwig, an upperclassman, won the diving. These four boys took all of the first places as far as individual events are concerned, with Turley taking three of them and the rest one apiece. Looks

Cinema Comments Will Appear in Next Issue

The column, "Cinema Comments" will be returned to these pages in accordance with student body wishes in the first edition of the new year. Also, a new column, discussing world and national affairs and written by Quentin Barnes, senior government major and member of Phi Beta Kappa, will appear at that time.

o. k. for the Lawrence swimming team of next year.

Efnor, flashy number 25 of the Knox cage squad, had one of the best fakes this writer has ever seen. When he would fake a two hand set shot at the basket, he would bring the ball so high that the guard was almost positive it was to be a shot. However he would bring the ball down fast and start his dribble while the guard was still blocking his set shot. He was mighty smooth and fast, and he certainly was cocky!

Welly Cape, our own forward, appears to have returned to his sophomore style of dropping those wide hook shots. When Welly is "on", he can't be stopped, because no guard can reach the ball when he takes that shot unless he fouls Cape. Here's hoping for a good season for you, Welly!

Big Bill Masterson's "hooting" and "rooting" at his opponents had the crowd in quite a dither during the game. However, it worked well in befuddling his opponents too as is seen in one of Efnor's wild passes that was five yards from the nearest Knox man.

Did you notice Don Fredrickson, Soph flash, toss a long pass to another man breaking down the floor? Don really wound up and let go, and the ball went out of court and hit the wall about four yards above the floor. That's o. k. Don, you just keep playing the game you did last Saturday and things won't look so bad for our Vikes.

This three game trip of Lawrence is going to be quite a grind on the boys of the Blue and White. Playing games on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights will be plenty tough. Cornell and Grinnell are both supposed to be pretty tough, and not so much is known of Loras college—the Saturday night opponents. If the boys play the kind of ball they did Saturday, that's all we can ask.

THE COACH'S CORNER

THE boys clearly showed in their first game last Saturday evening that although they won't be exactly world beaters, they're going to be up with the leaders.

Wally Cape began to show the form that made him such an outstanding forward his sophomore year in the first half. If he continues Saturday night's performance, I'm afraid Cliff Burton, our assistant coach, alumnus, former all-conference forward, and all-star kicker, will be out some meal tickets from giving Cape free dinners. By some stick and fast talking Wally got Cliff to agree to come across with a meal every time Cape made over six baskets in a game. If things get too bad, we intend to pass the hat around for Mr. Burton. Anyway, Don Fredrickson along with Cape scored consistently and played a veteran's game.

The centers, Schade and Kirchoff, both played steady games and scored fairly well. Some work is still needed to develop them into first flight men, but their improvement has been rapid and encouraging.

Masterson and Lingle played good defensive games for the first tilt of the season. With Buesing and Smith returning this week, we should be strengthened at guard.

With the return of these two men we will have two teams which will be alternating with little effect on the scoring punch. Nencki, Hammar, and Kirchoff will be on the second forward wall. Their performances Saturday show they along with the rest of the team have made steady progress.

This weekend we'll play on smaller courts so I intend to work the boys on a zone defense this week in practice. This will be a more practical defense in the confines of a smaller floor and also less tiring. Coach Denney.

Betas Win Greek Volleyball Race; Phi Deltas Second

Champs Defeat Sig Eps in Two Games, 15-9 And 15-6

Beta Theta Pi emerged champions of the Inter-fraternity volleyball race for the second successive year by virtue of their double triumph over Sigma Phi Epsilon, 15-9, and 15-6 respectively. Phi Delta Theta, whom we predicted would give the "champs" their strongest competition, were runners-up in the race, by turning back Delta Tau Delta in successive games, 15-10 and 17-15.

Looking first at the championship game, we see that the Betas again were superior and really were in no immediate danger throughout the games. When points were needed, Vince Jones and Nigger Bayley were there to supply the needed punch, as they seemed to be the most consistent point getters or "spikers". Both of these boys playing in the forward line combined to convert a set-up into a point. For the losers, though they could only score 15 throughout the games, Lubenow and Lockery starred.

The other game of the afternoon when the Phi Deltas and Deltas fought it out for second place honors, were two more closely fought games, but the "Phis" emerged victors in both. The second in the series needed a higher score than usual, in that the Deltas managed to tie the score at 15 all. However, the stellar play of Oliver, Donahue, and Everett was enough to net the Phis the winning margin. For the losers, or the third place Deltas, "Susy" and Hrudka provided the greatest punch to scare the winners.

The final standings show:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Beta Theta Pi	4	0	1.000
Phi Delta Theta	3	1	.750
Delta Tau Delta	2	2	.500
Sigma Phi Epsilon	1	3	.000
Phi Kappa Tau	0	4	.000

Brokaw Has Christmas Dinner Party Tonight

To-night the boys at Brokaw are having a Christmas dinner party, which has been planned by Mr. Ade Dillon, Ed Chambers, Jim Moody, and Malcolm Peterson. Ed Chambers, master of ceremonies, has planned a jam session by Brokaw residents and music by the waters' quartette for entertainment during the dinner. After the dinner the fellows will gather around the Christmas Tree for the presentation of awards. Among the awards will be a shovel for the man with the biggest appetite, a beer mug, a sponge (just guess the qualifications for these), and a "Phi Bete" key, which is self-explanatory. The program will be concluded with singing of Christmas carols.

Lawrence Frosh Win Over Fraternity Men In Preliminary Game

A ball club made up of Lawrence fraternity men that do not play on the varsity, played a preliminary game with the Frosh Saturday night. It was a close game throughout but the Frosh won out by a score of 20-18.

Undoubtedly the two outstanding players for the Frosh were Supiano and Slauson and for the Fraternity boys, Suszycki was high scorer, netting 7 points.

The Fraternity boys fouls were not recorded, because if they had been the Frosh would not have had a team to play against after the third quarter.

Dean Millis Talks On Commencement Speakers' Ideas

Sets Pattern for Those Who Address Gradu- ating Classes

On December 8, Mr. Millis had his convocation audience imagine themselves at a commencement exercise, which was "complete with faculty, friends, parents, potted palms, and a speaker to honor the occasion." Disliking the breed of commencement speakers who are usually so misleading, he wanted to set the pattern for any who might address a graduating audience.

Mr. Millis would do away with the standardized beginning. "As I look into your bright and shining faces I'm reminded—" for he has noticed that "no Lawrence girls have shining faces." He went on to say that, "It is not right for the speaker to doom the future, by reminding his audience of the murder, greed and suffering of the past." Nor would Mr. Millis state that his generation had failed. "For it has certainly had daring in experiments whether they be Communism, Fascism, or Ham and Eggs and it has acquired more knowledge faster than any other generation."

Ormsby Has Annual Christmas Dinner

The annual formal Christmas dinner was held last night at Ormsby hall. The arrangements were made by Katie Gilbert, social chairman.

A surprise Christmas spread invitation was found in each Ormsby resident's mail box from Miss Cope, inviting all Ormsby girls to a spread in the parlor tonight at eleven.

He would not continue to say that "democracy, education and christianity had failed and that culture is no more."

Mr. Millis does not charge these systems with failure, "it is the people who have lived within these systems who have not stood the test of time. Who can say that religion has failed when it has made weak men strong and strong men veritable giants."

"Institutions can and do change," he added "and new knowledge is always being shaped into wisdom. As long as one can find some faith in good ideals, some happiness in a world of chaos, and some wisdom displayed in people living fruitful lives, the outlook for the future is not entirely dark."

Mr. Millis believes that "the human will and spirit alone is the power for good or evil" this was his "commencement speech to end all commencement speeches."
